

Lukáš Škarpa

📍 Pitín 32, Zlínský kraj, Czech Republic    ✉ lukas.skarpa.bata@gmail.com    ☎ 737 117 624    🌐 lukasskarpa

Summary

Ambitious 19-year-old Computer Science student with hands-on experience delivering international web development work for a global enterprise team. Combines 4 months as a Web Development Intern with Bata MDC and 8 months of subsequent freelance contract work for Bata, maintaining and improving international web platforms. Strong command of English (Cambridge B2) and a deep passion for modern web technologies, clean code, and continuous growth as a developer.

Education

|                |                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                          |
|----------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------|
| Student | GJP a SOŠ Slavičín , Information Technology / Computer Science                                                                                                                                  | Slavičín, Czech Republic |
|                | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Focus on computer science, programming fundamentals, and networking.</li><li>• Participation in technical projects and school-level IT competitions.</li></ul> | Sept 2022 – June 2026    |

Experience

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |                                  |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| Bata (Freelance Contract, via internship placement) , Freelance Web Developer                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | Remote / Zlín, Czech Republic    |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Continued collaborating with Bata's international web team as an independent contractor following the internship, taking on greater ownership of platform updates.</li><li>• Delivered ongoing improvements and maintenance across Bata's global websites, working directly with stakeholders using Jira and Confluence.</li><li>• Operated with increased autonomy compared to the internship, managing tasks and delivery independently.</li></ul> | Jan 2025 – Aug 20258 months  |
| Bata Zlín MDC , Web Development Intern                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | Zlín, Czech Republic             |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Full member of the Czech team managing Bata's global web platforms.</li><li>• Owned the updating and maintenance of international websites used across multiple markets.</li><li>• Used professional tools (Jira, Confluence, Git) daily within a real corporate engineering workflow.</li></ul>                                                                                                                                                     | Sept 2024 – Jan 20255 months |

Skills

Web Development (Frontend): HTML & CSS/SCSS (advanced layout and styling), JavaScript & React (building interactive, production-grade web applications)

Programming & Logic: Python (scripting and core logic)

Development Tools: Git (version control across team projects), Jira & Confluence (professional project management and documentation)

Languages: English — Cambridge B2 Certified